

What's included and what do you need?

Each box serves four to six people, with the option to add extra products if required.

We've made things really easy for you and done all of the preparation so you'll just need to finish the dishes off on the BBQ.

Cooking instructions are provided with every box.

How much cooking is involved?

Our Chef's have made things really easy for you and done all of the preparation so you'll just need to finish the dishes off on the BBQ.

Sauces and ingredients are prepared, so you'll only need to BBQ, plate and serve.

Full instructions will be included in your box, however, it is extremely important to ensure all food is cooked thoroughly and all meat juices must run clear. We highly recommend using a meat temperature probe to check core temperature is above 75 degrees for more than 90 seconds.

You can purchase a food probe from us as an add-on product and full instructions on how to use your food probe will be explained in Chef's Corner.

Can I swap or remove any of the box contents?

Sorry, we're unable to edit the contents of each box. However, you can add additional products to your box.

Do you accommodate food allergies?

We are not able to accommodate individual food allergies. However, we do list allergens for each individual product.

How long does the food last?

Our Cook School in a Box products are designed to be eaten by the Sunday of your chosen week.

All of the ingredients in our boxes are packaged and well-sealed, and we use food safe chill packs and liners to insulate the box.

These will keep all the ingredients perfectly chilled for 48 hours. For best results, please unpack your box ASAP and place all ingredients in the fridge to store until you're ready to enjoy.

Change in the weather forecast? Not to worry, our products can be frozen to enjoy on the first sunny weekend! Exceptions below:

- Potato Salad
- Carrot & Caper Slaw
- Cheddar Cheese Slices
- Pretzel Buns

Please pay attention to the Use by Date on the label.

How many people is one BBQ in a Box (box) for?

BBQ in a Box is perfectly portioned for four to six guests. You can add additional products to your box if required.

Am I able to order any of the BBQ in a Box products as a single item?

We have a selection of add-on products available for BBQ in a Box.

Packaging and delivery

All the ingredients in our boxes are packaged and well-sealed, and we use food safe chill packs and liners to insulate the box. These will keep all the ingredients perfectly chilled for 48 hours. Please unpack and place all ingredients in the fridge on arrival.

Boxes will be delivered between 7:30am-8pm. You will receive an email ahead of your delivery with an estimated 4 hour time slot.

We deliver nationwide however, some postcode exclusions for remote areas apply.

We reserve the right to cancel any order that we cannot deliver to. A member of our team will make contact in such circumstances.

Click & Collect

It is free to collect your order from The Cook School.

The Collection Point is in The Cook School Shop. Please ensure you enter via the main door to collect your order and leave via the side door – we have a one way system.

Collections will be available on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of your chosen week between 10.30am and 12pm.

Can I use Cook School Vouchers and eVouchers to purchase BBQ in a Box?

Cook School vouchers and eVouchers can be used across all products on our website and in store.

Do you sell vouchers?

We sure do! Check out our eVoucher page on our website.

Allergens

Allergen information is included in the box. You can also find full information on the BBQ in a Box product page.